

Hearts of Three, by Jack London

Come along with Francis Morgan (heir of a powerful Wall Street stockbroker and descendant of a 17th-century pirate-turned-governor of Jamaica) on many swashbuckling adventures along the coast of Central America and in the interior of Panama. Hot blooded women (rated G), treacherous authorities, drunken jailers, ancient Maya secrets, quicksand, secret passages, a lost society with a queen that holds mystical powers, and an enterprising seller of secrets . . . pepper every chapter with humor, intrigue, or suspense – and sometimes all three! Who will Leoncia end up with? Will Francis’s fortune survive his absence from New York? Is everyone what he or she seems to be? A full-cast reading of London’s 1916 novel.

Narrated by Lynette Caulkins. Principal Cast: Francis Morgan by John Warren Hart, Henry Morgan by Ben Tucker, Leoncia Solano by Krista Zaleski, Sun Queen by Jenn Broda; assisted by many other talented LibriVox readers.

Total running time: 13:15:46

Foreword by Jack London explaining why this book differs from his other works and Cast of Characters, followed by 29 action-filled chapters.

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover designed by Scott & Lynette Caulkins. This cover has been designed using license-free assets from Freepik.com (including carved face on rocky monument by fxquadro) and royalty-free images from Pixabay. This design is in the public domain.